The Chamber is pleased to provide this special newsletter option for you to promote your business.

We invited all members of our Richfield business community to share information about how you are continuing to serve customers during these times of social distancing and masks.

Please review the following entries to see the changes area businesses have made and how they are continuing to serve customers.

Richfield Chamber of Commerce*

Essential business safely transitions back to the work place

GMS manages the essential functions of payroll, HR, employee benefits and other administrative functions for small to mid-sized businesses.

GMS transitioned back to the office on May 4th with new processes in place:

- Vulnerable employees continue remote work, no questions asked
- Building sanitized top to bottom daily
- Social distancing parameters set
- Daily COVID questionnaire

and temps taken at the door
Business has not skipped a beat for at GMS, as clients see the value of their services more than ever through this pandemic.

Broadview Insurance team works to keep business as usual

This pandemic has been a change for everyone. Pam, Jordan, Janet and Ric of Broadview Insurance began working from home the second week of March. The team has made it a priority to keep customers informed through e-mail and their website and Facebook page. Broadview Insurance has been able to do business as usual, giving clients the service and attention they deserve.

At Broadview Insurance everyone is #InThisTogether.

Visit broadviewinsurance.com for more information.

Comprehensive IT services to keep your business up and running

BayPointe Technology is introducing a service to help businesses with the high up-front cost of equipment replacement. BayPointe Operational Support Service, or B.O.S.S. for short, presents a unique payment structure designed to follow the life of the equipment and offers clients complete Infrastructure Lifecycle Management.

Call 330-659-6400 or info@baypointetech.com for information.

Share how your business has adapted during the COVID-19 pandemic in the Chamber's next special edition newsletter. Please send a short (50 word maximum) summary of changes you've made and how you are continuing to serve your customers, including any photos you wish to provide, to mail@richfieldchamber.com before Friday, June 19.

Full service salon implements safety protocols

Studio XEL Salon is accepting clients for all services including men's, women's and children's haircuts. The salon has not increased prices for services and is not charging additional COVID fees.

To abide by new safety protocols, Studio XEL Salon has implemented the following:

- Staff - temperature checked each morning; wearing masks and gloves
- Salon - professionally sanitized, stations 7ft apart and sanitized after each guest,

hourly wipe down of equipment

- Front desk - plexiglass barrier installed, single-use pens
- Reception area - indoor/outdoor waiting rooms available

For a full list of salon services, visit www.studioxel.com.

Navigating the COVID-10 pandemic with compassionate care

Regina Health Center's number one priority continues to be the health and safety of residents, caregivers and all staff. Here are just a few of the many steps taken to mitigate the risk of COVID-19 exposure:

- Providing staff with the tools needed to monitor resident's health to help detect possible health issues before symptoms manifest.
- Suspended all outside visitors, including family members, friends, delivery persons, volunteers, non-essential staff.
- All essential workers must answer a coronavirus questionnaire and have their temperature assessed daily.
- All group activities, including Mass, were cancelled.

Video calling tools like FaceTime, Zoom and Facebook Messenger have been added for residents and families to combat social isolation and to stay connected. RHC will continue to follow ODH and CDC guidelines to keep everyone safe and will take directive from the State of Ohio in determining when some restrictions can be eased.
